CORN IN COURT.

A Novel Case from Oregon Court in Which a Lady Offers to Show Her Feet.

Spectators in Justice Wood's court yesterday morning enjoyed an hour of comedy, in which H. D. Carmine and wife and Mrs. Luella Ronyon were the principal actors.

Carmine was on trial on charges of assaulting Mrs. Ronyon and tearing and destroying a cape belonging to her.
The complaining witness testified that she was a choropodist, and that she had contracted with Mrs. Carmine, who is a dancer, for some dresses and a cape, agreeing to tender her professional services in return. When the dresses, etc., were completed, Mrs. Ronyon called for them, but found that Mrs.
Carmine didn't need her services, but wanted her money. Carmine interfered in the trouble which followed and managed to tear the cape and get himself mixed up with the justice's court.

When Carmine was placed on the stand and told his version of the affair, he was asked if his wife was troubled with corns or bunions. The attorneys for the defense excitedly objected to this and had a wordy war with Deputy District Attorney Maloney, which resulted in a victory for the defense, the court holding that a husband was not supposed to tell all he knew in regard to his wife.

When Mrs. Carmine took the stand, however, the objection no longer held,
and she was compelled to admit that she had a small corn which "never troubled her." In the discussion of corns and bunions which followed Mrs.
Ronyon demanded that Mrs. Carmine allow the court to examine her feet, and Mrs. Carmine won the day by spirited-ly replying that she was willing to do so if the court thought it necessary.

Carmine was discharged from custody. —Portland Oregonian
A Great Scheme.

"Scribble has a great scheme on hand."

"What is it?"
"He's getting up a book that is bound to sell well and be popular with the ladies."

"What is it?"
"It's the last chapter of 20 different novels. So, no matter what you open, it will be the best of the book." —Chicago Inter Ocean.

What She Keeps.

Mrs. Wood—That Mrs. Chirp is hor-thing she knows." —Chicago Inter Ocean.

Bad as the Disease.

"I understand you've bought a dog to keep burglars away?"
"Yes."
"You are not troubled any more at night, then, I suppose?"
"Only by the dog." —London Tit.

The Little French Girl.

The little French girl, of a royalist dynasty, in 1870, has been confidently asserted of. The Count of Paris, however, is not so confident. He said last week that the girl is not so remote as is generally imagined, and that the nation itself will demand the restoration of the royal house, which will lead to a dictatorship or anarchy. —London Tit.

London's New Underground Road.

London will soon have an extensive addition to the underground railroad system. A line is to run north from Charing Cross to Easton and Hampstead. There will also be another east and west line, to cost $20,000,000.
The new line will be built.

How water is moving through much of the world, as the morning after. In many cases the habit of the former is just as strong as that of the latter and just as hard to break. It has been frequently demonstrated that the drinking of ice water is an acquired habit and not one that comes naturally. Give an infant ice water, and you will notice by its action that the drink is very distasteful. It usually has the same effect upon an Indian or upon any person not accustomed to it. Besides it is very unhealthy, and any person who can avoid drinking ice water should do so. —Chicago Herald.

Talking Through His Title.

George M. Pullman—wealth $50-000,000—told a newspaper reporter, "I believe that I was far happier in the days when I hadn't a dollar than I am now." That is all very fine, but if he was happier then, why not go back to those halcyon and dollarless days? The disposition of his great wealth need not bother him. The fact that George M.
Pullman is working early and late to add to his "burden" of wealth and responsibilities is evidence that the palace car king is "talking through his hat."

A Possible Condition.

Edith—Carrie doesn't seem to considmoney it is not likely he would ever have proposed to her. —Boston Tran-

A plan is being matured by the House Committee on Banking and Currency to create a broad banking system which will relieve the Government of issuing, circulating and redeeming the various forms of currency now in circulation.

Representative Walker of Massachusetts, a member of the Banking and Currency Committee, is one of the promoters and advocates of the scheme. He says the new system will do away with the various forms of currency now issued, and the substitution thereof of a uniform paper money to be issued by the Government through banks. At present the Government circulates Treasury notes, greenbacks, silver notes, gold notes and other kinds of currency. The purpose of the new system will be to make the National banks the sole source of issuing currency under Government supervision and direction. This currency will be surrounded by all the safeguards of the present laws and such others as may be deemed necessary to insure a proper redemption.

It is not expected to pass the bill at the present session of Congress, but its introduction, Mr. Walker claims, will serve a valuable purpose to business. He thinks the mere fact that such a comprehensive measure is reported and placed on the calendar will have a salutary effect in business and banking circles. He says the recent debate on State banks has been one of the most beneficial from an educational point of view we have had in twenty years, as it has cleared the way for a safe, sound and conservative system of nationalized banks and currency.

At Poughkeepsie, New York, suit was brought against Dr. J. W. Poucher for alleged malpractice in his treatment of a fractured arm. In the trial of the case Dr. J. P. Wilson testified against Dr. Poucher. Both physicians were members of the Dutchess County Medical Society, and after the case was disposed of in the courts, Dr. Poucher preferred a charge of unprofessional conduct against Dr. Wilson. The society, after a secret trial, decided that it is a violation of the code of medical ethics for one doctor to give evidence against another in a suit for damages, and Dr. Wilson was suspended for one year.

Now Dr. Wilson contemplates bringing an action in the courts to compel the society to restore him to membership. If this is done, there will, of course, be a full hearing of the case and the question whether a physician can or should testify against another will be legally determined. If the rule adopted by the society prevails there will be no redress in cases of malpractice as only physicians can determine whether a patient has been treated skillfully or otherwise.

Commenting on the evils of demonization the Denver News, which is one of the foremost advocates of free coinage, says:

"The demonization of silver, by contracting the volume and enhancing the value of money, has enabled the money power to dominate industry and undervalue the products of labor at will. It has rendered farming, except under exceptional conditions, unprofitable and is fast forcing a fierce conflict between capital and labor. It has placed producers at the mercy of money owners and is steadily but surely draining the producing States of their wealth to enrich a handful of plutocrats beyond any conception of individual wealth ever realized until within fifty years."

James Palmer, a Chicago letter carrier, was suspected of stealing letters from the mails. A decoy letter was used to entrap Palmer and he was arrested for stealing it. Judge Crosscup of the United States court decided that the decoy letter which Palmer had stolen was not regularly transmitted through the mails and was not postmarked at the time it was alleged to have been taken by the carrier. The jury was therefore instructed to find a verdict of not guilty. It is contended that if this decision stands it will be difficult for postoffice inspectors to obtain evidence against violators of the postal laws.

Troops are in the field in seven States to prevent riots. These States are Colorado, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Alabama. Coal is produced in all those States and it is protected by a duty of seventy-five cents per ton. The riots are in the coal mines, with the exception of Cripple Creek, Colorado, and the rioters are men who have struck against a reduction of wages from $8.70 to $4.70 per week of six days.

Americans are said to be the greatest travelers on the globe. About 100,000 of them go abroad annually and spend about $100,000,000. It is noticeable in this connection that nearly all who spend those millions in foreign countries are persons who have most to say about protecting home industries and spending money at home.

The House Committee on Commerce is preparing a bill which provides a bond issue to raise funds to build the Nicaragua Canal.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—In the Senate Stewart's Bill Relating to Mineral Lands Passed—Peffer's Wool Amendment Defeated.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—In the Senate Stewart secured unanimous consent for the passage of his bill to amend the chapter of the revised statutes relating to mineral lands and mining resources.

Dolph resumed the speech he was making against free wool when the Senate adjourned yesterday.

Dolph began with sarcastic reference to the impudence manifested by Harris, Democratic manager, because the bill was not rushed through with "indignant haste." He recalled the resentment shown by the Tennessee Senator when others displayed impudence at delay in the case of other bills, notably the Federal Elections bill and the bill to repeal the purchasing clause of the Sherman act. On the latter occasion when he (Dolph) remarked that he was tired of the prolonged contest, Harris curtly told him to sit down.

The first vote on the wool schedule was taken at 3 o'clock on Teller's motion to restore the McKinley rate on wool. Lost—29 to 31—on a strict party vote. Stewart voted yea and Peffer and the other Populists nay.

Observations about silver by Dolph brought Stewart to his feet with a silver argument.

Carey declared that if Brice and Palmer had been half as industrious in their demands for wool as were the two Louisiana Senators in their fight for a duty on sugar, the wool industry would have been saved. Had Kyle and Allen made a manly fight the duty on wool would have been retained.

"If we vote for a duty is not that all we can do?" asked Kyle.

"If you would refuse to vote for the other provisions of the bill," said Carey, "you could enforce the abandonment of free wool."

"I think the Senator is mistaken," said Kyle, "he will find when the final vote is taken that we do not hold the balance of power."

Peffer offered an amendment changing the McKinley rate of 11 cents to 7. The amendment was defeated—33 to 35. Hill refrained from voting. Allen, Peffer, Kyle and Stewart voted aye.

EXPLOSION IN A COAL MINE.

One Hundred and Eighty-Five Miners Killed.

TROOPAC, Austria, June 15.—It is now believed that at least 200 miners were killed in an explosion which took place at 10 o'clock last night in a pit of the Franziska mines, and thought to have resulted in the death of 120 miners. This explosion was followed by a series of others, the most disastrous being in Johannes pit, where sixty miners were killed. A rescue party which descended into one of the pits at 5 o'clock this morning also perished.

The official reports place the number killed at 185, fatally injured twenty. Fourteen bodies have already been recovered. There were five distinct explosions. The galleries of the mines are on fire and it is believed a majority of the bodies have been consumed.

A. O. U. W.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—The Supreme Lodge of Workmen resumed its session to-day. It was voted to set aside $10,000 to be used in employing organizers and speakers to work in behalf of the order in weak jurisdictions.

There was much discussion on the question of the manner of the passage of amendments to the constitution, and it was decided that all such amendments must be passed on regularly by the Grand Lodge.

COXEY GETS A HEARING.

He Argues for the Good Roads Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Coxey and Browne were granted a hearing by the Senate Committee on Labor to advocate the Good Roads bill, on the ground that it would provide employment for the idle. The hearing will be resumed on the 27th instant.

The Committee unanimously decided to favorably report the bill providing for the appropriation of $200,000 for a Government exhibit at the proposed cotton exposition at Atlanta, Ga., as an amendment to the Sunday Civil Appropriation bill.

Telegraphic Note.

A fire at Yamagata, Japan, destroyed twelve hundred houses and thirteen lives.

Lord Randolph Churchill is too ill to attend to his Parliamentary duties and is going to take a trip around the world.

It is reported that the miners of Midvale, Ohio, will not endorse the Columbus compromise and will not go to work next Monday.

An attempt was made to set fire to Mine 43 at Boyer, Missouri. One of the guards was shot in the leg by the incendiaries.

Charles H. Sharkey, aged 20, has been held at Flushing, N. Y., for poisoning his mother. He is an only son and heir to a large estate.

Representatives of the Central Pacific railroad at Washington object to the proposed funding of the debt for fifty years at six per cent.

Destructive forest fires are raging near Nestoria, Michigan. Sagolo, a lumbering camp of 400 inhabitants, has been completely burned out.

Eight hundred strikers stopped a coal train at Youngwood, Pa., and forced the engineer to take it back. The rioters then demolished two railroad bridges.

Chicago pioneers have erected a flagpole over the almost forgotten grave of David K. Kenyon, who was buried in the old Chicago cemetery, now a part of Lincoln Park, in 1852. He was a member of the "Boston Tea Party," and the last survivor of that memorable body, having died at the age of 115 years.

A fire at Modesto, Cal., yesterday destroyed the Love livery stable and sixteen horses, Harter's blacksmith shop, Green Brothers, O'Leary's and De Yoe's shops. Loss, $10,000.

A freight train was wrecked by rocks placed upon the track at Mundy's Cut, north of Mount Vernon, Missouri, by tramps. Fireman White was fatally scalded and Engineer Rhem was badly burned.

At 1 o'clock this morning as Will Murray and Charles McFarlin were walking down Sierra street they noticed a light in the rear of S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store, and, believing it was fire, ran down the alley towards Virginia street and discovered a well developed blaze in some boxes, which was rapidly making way up the back of the building. The alarm was sounded and the firemen were soon on the ground, but the JOURNAL force with the assistance of others soon removed the burning debris away from the building and had the fire extinguished. Strong evidence of coal oil could be seen on the building, ground and by the smell, and there is no doubt but what it was the work of an incendiary.

Dick Nash had passed the place about fifteen minutes before the discovery of the fire. Murray and McFarlin caught a suspicious looking fellow as they ran down the alley, and turned him over to the officers. This is the second attempt to fire this property within a few weeks and it is a matter that should receive a thorough investigation.

A Supposed Murder.

Coroner Morgan received a dispatch from Tuscarora Sunday morning stating that the skeleton of a man, supposed to have been murdered, had been found at the head of McCann Creek, about three miles west of Tuscarora Saturday afternoon, says the Elko Independent. One leg and one arm was gone and there was no hair on the skull. A pack saddle, some clothing and a pair of boots, almost new, were found by the remains. As there was a bullet hole through the skull, and no pistol or gun was found near the remains, foul play is suspected and Coroner Morgan went to Tuscarora Monday to inquire into the matter.

Should be a Warning.

The fatal accident of last evening should be a warning to children attempting to climb on wagons moving along the streets. The truckmen and others say that they are greatly annoyed in this way, and they cannot be expected to prevent accidents of this kind. Parents should impress the accident of last night on each little one's mind, and should not feel aggrieved if the drivers of vehicles should spank a youngster now and then for persisting in this amusement. Children can be seen doing it every day, and it is a wonder that more of such accidents have not occurred.

The Fire Bell.

At 1 o'clock this morning as Will Murray and Charles McFarlin were walking down Sierra street they noticed a light in the rear of S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store, and, believing it was fire, ran down the alley towards Virginia street and discovered a well developed blaze in some boxes, which was rapidly making way up the back of the building. The alarm was sounded and the firemen were soon on the ground, but the JOURNAL force with the assistance of others soon removed the burning debris away from the building and had the fire extinguished. Strong evidence of coal oil could be seen on the building, ground and by the smell, and there is no doubt but what it was the work of an incendiary.

Dick Nash had passed the place about fifteen minutes before the discovery of the fire. Murray and McFarlin caught a suspicious looking fellow as they ran down the alley, and turned him over to the officers. This is the second attempt to fire this property within a few weeks and it is a matter that should receive a thorough investigation.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

Unusual Weather Extremes May be Expected in the Next Thirty Days—Electric Currents.

(Copyrighted 1894, by W. T. Foster.)

St. JOSEPH, Mo., June 15.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm waves to cross the continent from June 19th to 23d, and the next will reach the Pacific Coast about the 24th, cross the Western Mountains by the close of the 25th, the Great Central valleys from the 26th to 28th, and the Eastern States about the 29th.

Unusual weather extremes may be expected during the next thirty days. Mars, to which the ancients assigned a prominent position as the god of war, will surely be king of the weather during the month to come. Extremes of temperature and precipitation, accompanied by very severe storms, are almost sure to result.

During this period a cold field and a warm field will move slowly westward across the continent. Cold waves and warm waves move from west to east, crossing the continent in three to six days; while cold fields move from east to west, crossing the continent in three to six weeks.

Weather observers have noticed that rainfall and temperature often alternate, so that one month will be warmer and dryer, and the following month colder and wetter than the general averages. These changes are often caused by electric fields that drift westward.

The changes are extreme when a planet occupies a position relative to the earth that induces a large increase in the electric forces of the earth.

The warm wave will cross the Western mountains about the 24th, the Great Central valleys about the 26th, and the Eastern States about the 27th. The cool wave will cross the Western mountains about the 27th, the Great Central valleys about the 29th, and the Eastern States about July 1st.

This storm wave will be of very considerable force west of the Mississippi river about the 25th and 26th.

ELECTRIC CURRENTS.

The high and low barometers which are the immediate causes of all our weather changes are themselves results of which electric currents are the cause. An accumulation of electricity lightens the atmosphere, and thus forms what are known as low barometers.

The well known tendency of electricity to move in spirals soon starts a whirl of extent, and from all directions the air moves toward the center of this whirl, at the same time rising. These motions are all caused by currents of electricity, and therefore the following laws of electricity are quoted from a standard work: "Currents of electricity attract each other when they move in the same direction, and repel one another when moving in opposite directions."

We often see two low barometers crossing the continent at the same time, one along a path north of the other. Their electric currents ascend, and, moving in one direction they attract each other and usually unite. Such a union almost universally causes a destructive storm.

We must not look upon this union of the two lows as the original cause of the destructive storm, but back of them, where will be found planetary positions that cause unusual electrical activity, which in turn cause two low barometers to form instead of one.

Sometimes a high barometer of more than ordinary force will, by friction from the outer atmosphere, form eddies in the air similar to those we often see in water. These become conductors from the overcharged earth, form lows, and sometimes four of them are seen on the continent at one time. They are feeble, however, and as they are separated by a powerful transcendent high, they are held apart and soon die out.

The above quotation will also apply to the high barometers. They are formed by currents coming down in a spiral toward the earth, and one high will attract another. They often unite, and the transcendent highs from the northwest always plunge into the permanent high of the North Atlantic, which is their nirvana, and in which they are absorbed and lost.

"CURRENTS REPEL EACH OTHER. When they move in opposite directions," says the authority quoted. This accounts for the fact that high and low barometers repel each other, and although they hag each other closely, they never so far unite as to become one.

The same law that governs the planets applies to the high and low barometers. The planets attract each other until their electrospheres meet, and then they repel. It is a mistake to suppose that sun, planets and comets universally attract each other. Repulsion is universal as soon as the electrospheres of the bodies meet.

Comets plunge deep into the sun's electrosphere—which extends far out beyond the orbit of Neptune—but the "fire is knocked out of them" by their friction against the elements surrounding the sun, and they reach close quarters with the sun only by the momentum they gain before reaching the sun's electrosphere.

It is also an error to suppose that the tails of comets continue throughout their orbit. These tails show up after the comets have reached the sun's electrosphere, after repulsion and friction have taken the place of attraction as it is erroneously called.

Extending the laws quoted above to a larger scale, we have permanent lows at the earth's geographical poles, over the Bering Sea, surrounding Iceland, and at corresponding points on the Southern Hemisphere. In all of these Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

the currents are downward. Upward currents are found in the permanent highs covering the north Atlantic, north Pacific, the central portions of the North American and Asiatic continents and corresponding points on the southern hemisphere.

Each of these great permanent and stationary areas of high barometers, through which currents move downward, attract all transient highs and repel all transient lows, while each of the great permanent and stationary low barometers through which currents move upward, attract all transient highs and repel all transient lows.

It is known that an overcharged body will throw off bodies of electricity, and when the sun, moon or planets move into position that increases electrical action, then the permanent highs throw off bodies of downpouring currents which constitute our cold waves or transient highs, and at the same time the permanent lows throw off bodies of uppouring currents, which constitute our warm waves or transient lows.

The high and low barometers conform to all the laws of electricity, and never conform to the laws of heat. Then why is it that our National Weather Bureau continues to spend the Nation's money trying to establish the erroneous theory that heat, sun heat, is the cause of all weather changes?

A RUNAWAY.

Two Ladies Thrown from a Carriage to the Ground.

As Mrs. D. H. Barker and Mrs. Gibbs were out driving yesterday afternoon the horse took fright at the clatter of a barrel hoop that caught in one of the wheels of the phaeton. He started to run in front of Mr. O. T. Bender's residence and turned down Commercial street, having things his own way, although pretty well handled by Mrs. Barker, who was driving.

The horse sheered to one side of the street in front of Hollingsworth's store, and came into collision with the delivery wagon standing there, completely overturning it and knocking the horse down that was hitched to it. Mrs. Barker's buggy was also overturned by the shock, throwing her into the street. Mrs. Gibbs was crouching in the phaeton as it overturned, and the horse dragged it a few feet, bringing up on the sidewalk in front of Leadbetter's, where John Parker caught him by the bridle, and other at once came to John's assistance. Mrs. Gibbs was taken from under the phaeton, and the two ladies were assisted into Leadbetter's. Mrs. Barker received a terrible fall and shaking up, but bravely insisted that she was not hurt seriously.

Mrs. Gibbs had a narrow escape from death, as the horse began kicking before she was taken from the overturned phaeton. She insisted, however, that she was not greatly hurt, and was very cool, seeming to be determined to encourage Mrs. Barker, but before leaving Mr. Leadbetter's store she quietly told Dr. Lewis to call at the house, and upon going there he found Mrs. Gibbs had sustained a fracture of the collar bone and must have been suffering intense pain during the time she was acting so bravely. Both ladies were bruised up considerably, but were very lucky to pass through such an experience without more serious results. The buggy was badly damaged, and the delivery wagon had an axle sprung.

THE DEATH PENALTY.

Alfred Vaughan Sentenced to be Hanged.

In the District Court at Austin, Judge Fitzgerald presiding, Alfred Vaughan, convicted of the murder of Willie Lister in Boone Canyon on the 28th of December, 1893, was sentenced to be hanged on a day and time to be fixed by warrant of the Judge of the Court.

The Reveille says Vaughan is a powerfully built man, standing about six feet and weighing about 170 pounds. He was raised in Lander county and has three grown brothers and father and mother residing four miles from the scene of the murder of Willie and John Lister. He is also under indictment for the killing of John Lister at the same time he killed Willie. The case goes to the Supreme Court.

The Henrietta.

Bronson Howard's comedy, "The Henrietta," is a satire on modern New York life, and a surgeon's scalpel could not more clearly demonstrate the anatomy than Mr. Howard's pen has laid bare the entire framework of this life. It is the picture of the condition of society where the love of money has usurped and displaced the best feelings of our nature to such an extent that all left is a hollow mockery.

To Cleanse The System.

Effectually yet gently, when costive or bilious or when the blood is impure or sluggish, to permanently cure habitual constipation, to awaken the kidneys and liver to a healthy activity, without irritating or weakening them, to dispel headaches, colds or fevers, use Syrup of Figs.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Quartz Wagon Runs Over and Crushes the Life Out of a Little Boy.

At about 6 o'clock last evening as Mr. Henry Maxwell, who is hauling ore from the Golden Eagle mine to the Reduction Works, was passing Nadon's blacksmith shop the little five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Brechtel ran out and it is supposed tried to climb up on the pole between the first wagon and the backaction. After he had fallen to the ground and just as a wheel had passed over him, some one yelled to Maxwell to whom, and he immediately stopped his team and ran back and picked up the child, he being yet alive. Mr. Maxwell asked him where he lived, and the boy just spoke the two words, "I live," and expired. The wheel passed diagonally across the boy's body, crushing his left hip and abdomen and breaking the right arm. The wagon was loaded with five tons of ore. The mother had spoken to him a short time before and told him supper would soon be ready, and her first intimation that anything had happened to the child was when some one came abruptly to the door and said, "Madame, your boy is killed," followed by another carrying the lifeless body. The father had commenced work for the N.C.O. and was returning home when he was told of the accident. The boy was a beautiful little fellow, and the heartbreaking scene witnessed over the father and mother meeting over the dead body of their baby, cannot be described. Neighbors and friends came in and rendered such assistance and consolation as they could. The mother held up bravely for awhile, but finally swooned and for a time it was thought she was dying. Dr. Dawson was called and afforded prompt relief. The Coroner summoned a jury and visited the house and viewed the body. No blame is attached to Mr. Maxwell, as he was driving his team of eight animals and had no opportunity of seeing the child when the latter ran under the wagon. He was greatly affected by the accident, and said that he had been very careful and had frequently cautioned boys to keep away from the wagons, having put them off time and again. The inquest, if any is held, will likely take place to-day.

THE REPUBLICAN CLUB.

What a Former Member Says It Should Do.

A gentleman who joined the Republican Club during the Midwinter Campaign under a misapprehension of its motives, says he does not attend its meetings since he learned its real object. He says if the members of the Club were sincere in their advocacy of free coinage, they would resolve at their next meeting to disband, and join the Silver party. By pursuing this sensible course they would convince Eastern goldbugs that there is but one sentiment in Nevada on the money question, and that is for free coinage. Then those who aspire to office could adopt the Eureka plan, hold no nominating convention, but let everybody who desired to do so run for office.

Saved Her Life

Surgical Operations and Best Medical Treatment Failed

An Almost Miraculous Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Beginning in February, '92, I was very sick for two months. Slowly I got better but was confined to my bed. A physician said I had a Pelvic Abscess in My Side.

After an operation I did not improve, the abscess continuing to discharge even more freely than before. In two months time three operations were performed and tubes inserted to carry off the impurities, but all in vain. Finally it was decided that my life depended upon another operation and that I must be removed to the hospital. About three weeks previous to this I had noticed an advertisement in the Daily News of a case where Hood's Sarsaparilla had cured a boy somewhat similarly afflicted in Fremont, N. J., and I decided to give it a trial. When the time decided upon for me to go to the hospital arrived I had been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla about two weeks.

I Was Getting Better and the abscess had already begun to discharge less freely. I felt stronger and had a terrible appetite. Previous to this I had given up to die. When I had taken the second bottle I was able to sit up and accordingly I was not taken to the hospital and the final operation was deferred. Now I have taken six bottles and the abscess has entirely healed. I am well and go every where. My friends think it is a miracle to have me restored to them again so healthy and even younger in looks than before my sickness.

I Feel Better Than Ever

I did in my life and weigh over 130 pounds, the heaviest in my life. I do a big day's work and am gaining in strength every day. My mother worried and worked herself almost sick in caring for me. She has since taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it has done her much good. We praise Hood's Sarsaparilla to everybody for

I Know I Saved My Life.

I am 27 years old, and a stranger to look at me now would not think I ever had a day's sickness. Even the doctors are surprised at the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla in my case. Mother and myself continue to take the medicine.

BALD HEADS!

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch?
Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

Skookum Root Hair Grower

It is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. Skookum contains neither minerals nor oils. It is not a dye but a deliciously cooling and refreshing tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads.

Keep the scalp clean, healthy, and free from irritating eruptions by the use of Skookum Hair Soap. It destroys parasitic insects, which feed on the scalp.

If your druggist cannot supply you send direct to us, and we will forward prepaid, on receipt of price. Grower, $2.00 per bottle; 6 for $10. Reno, Nev.
per jar; 6 for $25.00.

BALLADE OF WORLDLY WEALTH.

Money taketh town and wall,
And rampeth without a blow.
Money moves the merchants all,
While the slaves shall ebb and flow.
Like the good and truth like lies,
These alone can never bestow
Youth and health and paradise.
Money maketh festival,
While the laies and beds can strow.
Round the necks of captains tall,
Money wins them chains to throw,
Money maketh soldiers to and fro,
Gaineth ladies with sweet eyes.
These alone can never bestow
Youth and health and paradise.
Money wins the priest his stall,
Money maketh laies, I trow,
Red hats for the cardinal,
Abbeys for the novice low.
Money maketh sin as snow,
Place of penitence supplies.
These alone can never bestow
Youth and health and paradise.
—Andrew Lang in Public Opinion.

Early Morning Advice.
The policeman, at 3 o'clock a. m., had just turned the corner when he met a man who very evidently was not a suspicious character, yet who did not seem to be exactly where he ought to be.
The policeman, however, had no intention of stopping him, but the man, much to the officer's surprise, stopped the guardian of the peace.
"Some one," he said somewhat thickly, "will you tell me what time it is?"
"Ten minutes after 3," replied the officer curiously.
"Thought so, or thereabouts," said the man, with some significance. "Are you a married man?"
"I am," said the officer as if he were proud of it.
"You ought to be. I am, too; every man ought to be," said the man. "Is your wife living?"
"Sure, or was when I left home after supper."
"Ain't you been home since supper?"
"No," and the officer smiled.
"What time 'd you say it was?" queried the man.
"After 3 o'clock."
"Thought so," said the man, shaking his head sorrowfully. "Got a wife at home. Ain't been there since supper; now 3 o'clock in the morning, and you are still a-t. Sir, I'm 'thundered of you," and leaving his coat up, with rubbing diapers the man walked off, leaving the policeman at a loss as to what to do.
